

Uso degli antidoti e gestione delle intossicazioni nei diversi setting assistenziali

Rianimazione

Roberto Zoppellari

Direttore UO Anestesia e Rianimazione Ospedaliera

Azienda Ospedaliero Universitaria di Ferrara

Direttore Dipartimento Emergenza

Azienda Ospedaliero Universitaria e Azienda USL di Ferrara

European Association of Poisons Centres and Clinical Toxicologists

39th INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS 21-24 May 2019, Naples, Italy

Poisoned patients admitted to the Intensive Care Unit: experience of treatments in a case series of 184 patients

R Zoppellari <sup>1</sup>, A L Pinamonti <sup>1</sup>, F Tartari <sup>1</sup>, A Mallozzi Menegatti <sup>1</sup>, L Bagnoli <sup>1</sup>,
C De Fazio <sup>1</sup>, A Quaranta <sup>1</sup>, A Ricci Frabattista <sup>2</sup>, A Talarico <sup>3</sup>, R M Gaudio <sup>3</sup>
1. Department of Anaesthesia and Intensive Care, S. Anna Hospital, Ferrara, Italy

2. Department of Pharmacy, S. Anna Hospital, Ferrara

3. Institute of Legal Medicine, Ferrara University, Italy

ICU admission in 184 poisoned patients

	Severe symptomatic patients	Asymptomatic patients	Mildly symptomatic patients
Number of patients	142	17	25
Mechanical ventilation and cardiovascular support (75%)	125	7	5
Gastrointestinal decontamination (67%)	99	10	15
Antidotal administration (43%)	66	9	4
Extracorporeal removal (5%)	6	4	0

Marco Marano      Mara Pisani
Ospedale Pediatrico Bambin Gesù - Roma